Legal Business Development: Basic Principles and Best Practices is the course you should have taken in law school, in an audio format that can be played on your computer, CD player, or iPod. Instead of taking a full semester, you can complete sections of this course whenever you can find a few free moments. There are six modules that can be completed at any time in any order:

- Module 1 - How the legal market is changing, and what it means to you
- Module 2 - Six ways to increase results from your limited marketing time
- Module 3 - How to increase business with current clients
- Module 4 - How to find new clients: From prospecting to closing
- Module 5 - How to improve your elevator speech
- Module 6 - How to increase results from speaking and writing

The book, Legal Business Development: A Step by Step Guide, has helped lawyers get more from their limited marketing time at large and mid-sized firms from Boston to Dubai. It includes step by step instructions to help each lawyer decide how much time to devote to business development, to identify the most productive activities that can be accomplished within that time, and to assure follow-up.

The Success Kit also includes:

- Three reminders to help you keep business development near the top of your “to-do list,” – a notepad, a post-it pad, and a post-it flag highlighter – all imprinted with the critical question, “What should I do today to increase new business?”
- A Quick Start Card to help you to begin maximizing the benefits, as soon as you open the box.

Success Kit author Jim Hassett founded LegalBizDev to help lawyers develop new business more quickly by applying best practices from other law firms and from other professions. Before he started working with lawyers, Jim had 20 years of experience as a sales trainer and consultant to companies from American Express to Zurich Financial Services. Jim has published seven books and more than seventy articles in publications ranging from the New York Times Magazine to Legal Management and Strategies: The Journal of Legal Marketing. He has a Ph.D. from Harvard University, and is an Adjunct Associate Professor of Psychology at Boston University. His blog, Legal Business Development (at www.jimhassett.com), was recently selected by TechnoLawyer as one of “the most influential legal blogs” and he also writes the monthly column “On Business Development” for Law Firm Inc.
